

Q:

How can I become a special education teacher? I have a bachelor's degree.

A:

Congratulations on having your degree! In order to teach special education, you will need to earn an Education Specialist Instruction Credential. You can start by making your personalized career plan to get a checklist of the requirements.

What's Next?

Get a user-friendly overview of the process for becoming a Special Education teacher.

www.teachcalifornia.org